

Lounge

Design: Umberto Asnago

Description

Sofa upholstered all in Fabric or Leather or in two-tones combining Fabric and Leather. The supporting structure is made of naturally seasoned poplar solid wood, with some connecting elements in poplar plywood; the junctions of the various elements of the structure are built using interlocking joints with cylindrical spines. The back is made of molded bent beech plywood. The seat suspension is composed of elastic straps in polypropylene and natural latex of two sizes and elasticity. The padding of the structure is obtained with non-deformable polyurethane foam slabs with different densities and CFC-free and then covered with polyester wadding and coupled velvet. Available in two sizes. A lounge chair is also available. Made in Italy.
