

Assemblage

Design: Alain Gilles

Description

Side table created by the combination of different shapes and, most of all, of materials that are not usually brought together, whose perception of weight is here disrupted: cork, lighter than wood, here serves as the base and so it appears as the weight that supports the side table.

The top, on the other hand, is made of solid wood, proposed in various colors. Available in two heights, these original side tables can be used as unique elements or in groups, to create dynamic compositions. Made in Italy.
