

Tulip

Design: Marc Sadler

Description

Suspension lamp made with floating blossoms that have been hand molded, making each unique. The almost invisible cables hold the suspended flowers that bloom from brushed brass stems; each is prepositioned at specific angles to create the sense of natural morphology. Every tulip is connected to the next through a series of intricately woven copper wires conducting low-voltage electricity.

The collection features plug & play configurations of either 7 or 14 flowers cascading from a single, brushed brass rectangular or round ceiling rose, or free standing bundles of 14 flowers that can be installed according to personal tastes and the available space. The LED light sources are included and can be replaced autonomously. Made in Italy.
