Description

Executive desk with two chests of drawers and one door with internal open compartments. Structure and top dividers in poplar plywood and solid maple wood. The top inserts are available completely in saddle leather, in Indian rosewood with central insert in saddle leather or in sapele pommelle mahogany. The top is equipped with two adaptors, placed on the left and on the right, each one predisposed for one schuko socket, one RJ45 socket and one high-speed USB socket. The chests of drawers are made of curved plywood covered with saddle leather, each one features four completely removable drawers with recessed sliding runners and silent system closing. A central sliding drawer is placed between the two chests of drawers and it is characterized by its internal compartments covered with saddle leather for pens and paper. The base profile, top inserts and spacer between the chests of drawers and the top are painted in a bronze color with natural effect. It is possible to include a right or left side peninsula covered with saddle leather, made up of 4 drawers and two doors with internal open compartments. The top can have saddle leather or Indian rosewood inserts. A modesty panel in curved plywood covered with saddle leather is available on demand. Made in Italy.
