

Ansel

Design: Alessandro La Spada

Description

Collection characterized by its leather or fabric upholstery, finished with manually visible and individually placed buttons, in the following finishes: polished chrome, matte black, light gold matt antique gold or covered in leather and when is possible in velvet.

Versatile modularity allows for various compositions: open corners can be used both in the angular composition of chaise longue and individual, with the possibility of having, on one side, a utility shelf made of onyx stone with adjustable internal lighting.

The sofa structure is made of wood with high strength elastic straps and high density polyurethane foam cover. The seat cushions are made of sterilized goose feather, with polyurethane foam insert at different heights.

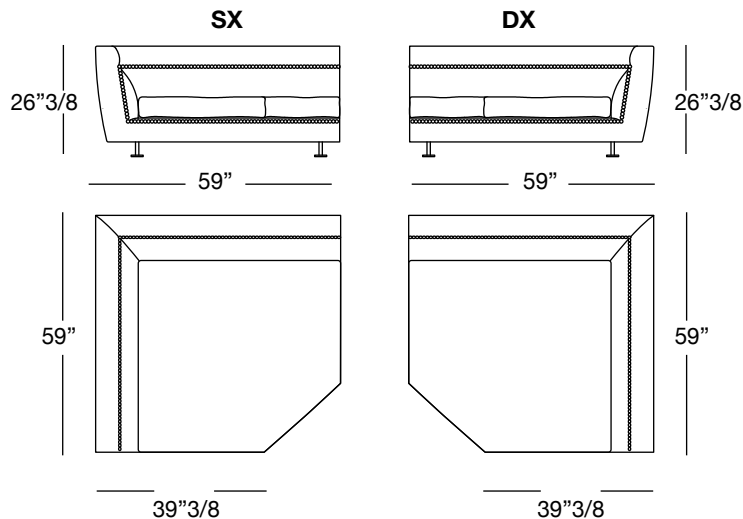

Feet made of painted aluminum in bronze.

Taking into account the complexity of the structure the upholstery is not removable, while the seat cushion in leather or fabric is removable.
