

Lancer Keramik

Design: Renato Guerra

Description

Fixed table that stands out for its metal base, in embossed lacquered steel or lacquered steel, with a strong architectural value, enlivened by a punchy graphic sign. Four blades cut through the air and intersect each other, creating an energetic composition with an apparently irreproducible pattern. Each leg is designed with a T-section, which multiplies the opportunities for crossing and overlapping. The entire base is thus strengthened by a rhythmic chiaroscuro effect, in which the blind zones contrast with the metal portions struck by the light. The Lancer Keramik model features a refined top made of ceramic Marmi available in a wide range of finishes. Made in Italy.
