

Touch-me

Design: Martino Boatto

Description

Physical connection inspires Boatto Martino's latest design, Touch Me. Because what is life without touch? What feeds our emotions or interpersonal relationships without being able to reach out? What is raw and equally sometimes rare that can elicit such feelings?

Touch-Me is not about mimicking those things but representing something which is unique to each and everyone of us. Whether its fabric or leather, Touch-Me interplays style and form making it a testament to comfort and art, designed to cradle us and create a sanctuary of relaxation and personal space, to comfort us through unique touch perfectly fitting of the name.
