

Split

Design: Francesco Forcellini

Description

Split is a family of mirrors featuring a vertical cut. Inside this cut two inclined and mirrored surfaces reflect the surrounding space and each other, creating a dynamic interplay of reflections that multiply giving life to new perspectives.

Split has no frames and its proportions and formal balance are given simply by the vertical cut where the mirrors can be of different colour as those of the sides, gaining thus a more decisive scenic effect. Thanks to the formal simplicity and single material it can easily be fitted in modern ambiances and also more traditional ones.
