

Shu

Design: Alessandro Dubini

Description

The Shu chair boasts an essential design with sinuous and refined lines. Its elegance is sophisticated and without excess which makes it suitable for any environment: a passe-partout furnishing element that fits into domestic but also public environments. It is made with a structure in fine solid black walnut wood or graphite-stained ash wood on which a lightly padded seat in polyurethane foam and covered in saddle leather is placed. Its lightness is inspired by the primordial element Shu, symbol of air, as a vital breath.
