

Tudor

Design: Mauro Lipparini

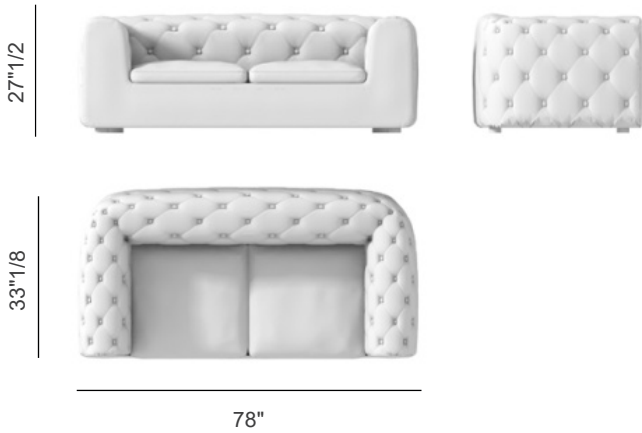

Description

Tudor, whose name already evokes British atmospheres, is a rigorous line of sofas, armchair, pouf and beds, with a timeless style; it is in fact the perfect combination between the classicism of structured and elegant shapes and contemporary design oriented towards maximum comfort, obtained thanks to a revisitation of the capitonné workmanship. The large size of the lozenges, the soft padding and the lower tension of the covering allow greater comfort, far from the traditional rigidity typical of similar models of the past.
