

Soft

Design: Daniele Lago

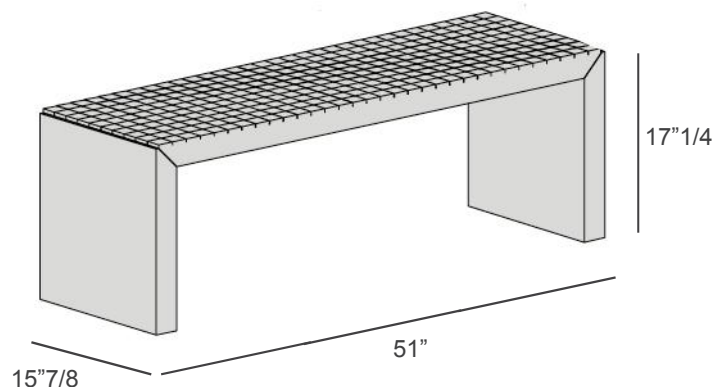

Description

The design-driven Soft Bench conceals comfortable padding that gently welcomes the sitter, thanks to a mosaic of lacquered wood and foam that unexpectedly flexes under the weight of the body. At first it seems hard like all benches, but then it gently shapes to your form with simple pressure. The innovative technological mix of materials unites the surprise of softness with the extraordinary level of customization, such innovation lies in having softened the wood, thanks to a rigid panel sectioned into pieces and coupled to the foam.

Easy to transport, Soft Bench brings a surprising note of design to the home and public spaces. Made in Italy.
