

Napa

Design: Umberto Asnago

Description

A furnishing object that defines an environment; an element that embodies the intimacy of a ritual; a project that recounts the tradition of interior design in a contemporary way. It is the Napa desk by Umberto Asnago that transforms into a make-up vanity unit. On a light structure, made by two trestles, rests a thin surface that designs the space with a horizontal sign. Made of soft or saddle leather, metal and glass, Napa is equipped with a series of retractable storage elements and accessories, such as the mirror, which transform the dimension of work into the most sensual and intimate of gestures, that of personal care.
