

Circe

Description

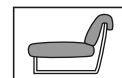

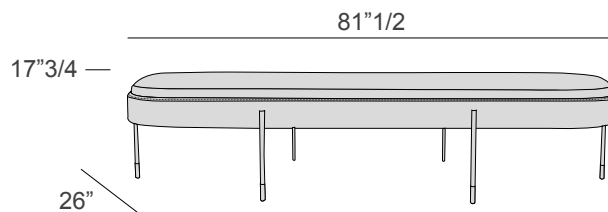

Visually light and delicate, Circe is a bench with an ellipse shape, expresses its soul in the attention to detail: from the enveloping leather shell with the outer edge decorated with precious hand stitching made in contrast, which underline and enhance the sinuous design of this object. It stands out from the floor, slightly balanced by a metal structure resting on precious brass feet. Thanks to its light elegance, the Circe bench fits into any environment, from the living room to the sleeping area as well as in refined lounge contracts. Each Italian handmade Mascheroni product is marked with a plate engraved with the brand "Mascheroni srl Made in Italy" which certifies its authenticity.
