Design: Patricia Urquiola

Description

Chaise lounge with cold injected polyurethane with internal resin structure. Powder-coated steel fixed base. Removable leather cover.

Taking on button tufting, giving it a new spin, revolutionizing the concept, Patricia Urquiola has designed a range of products which appear to be liquid in shape as if they are melting over their frame to create soft, comforting, almost casual lines where the fabric or leather are fixed to the shell using press studs. Made in Italy.
