Design: Stefan Scholten

Description

Armchair with soft and welcoming lines. A furniture piece with open and comfortable shapes that evokes the typical flower of the Dutch landscape with its armrests arranged like the leaves of the flower.

The shell is entirely made of polyurethane. Structural rigid expanded polyurethane for the load-bearing structure and soft foamed polyurethane for the padded part that wraps around the entire seat.

The base comes with four ash wood legs anchored to a steel frame with a swivel plate screwed to the seat (FSC Certified®). Seat and backrest upholstered in non-removable fabric. Made in Italy.
