

Robox

Design: Fabio Novembre

Description

The unique Robox bookcase, a man-sized robot, a beautiful and distant childhood memory made real, a “new household hero”, created by Fabio Novembre. Robox embraces all these definitions and lends itself easily to satisfy a variety of uses. This project is open to multiple interpretations adding to and personalizing its meaning and value. This anthropomorphic bookshelf animates the space it occupies, with its bright red heart, Robox is exactly the same height as the designer who created it. Made in Italy.
