

Riddled

Design: Steven Holl

Description

A true work of art, it consists of an aluminium frame and five storage units made of origami-folded 2-mm wooden sheets thanks to a complex and patented technological process. The elegant Riddled Totem conveys great charm and elegance through its sculptural volumes, already characterized by the typical perforated texture of many famous works by Steven Holl. The result is a faceted container, light and bright as a diamond but made of wood following Horm's unmistakable style. Made in Italy.
