

Horse Head

Design: Duccio di Segna

Description

With its imposing presence and refined detail, this horse head sculpture is a striking testament to the mastery of Colle Val d'Elsa glassworks. Hand-sculpted in the heart of Tuscany, a region revered for its centuries-old glassmaking traditions, this piece captures the noble spirit of the horse with stunning clarity and elegance.

The contours of the horse's head are rendered with sculptural precision: the arched neck and billowing mane, motionless in motion, all brought to life by the impeccable transparency and luminous depth of the glass. A symbol of strength, freedom, and majesty, this sculpture stands as a centerpiece, a decorative element for a mantelpiece, or part of a select art collection. Made in Italy.
