Description

In a moment of joyful elegance, this crystal sculpture captures a seal delicately balancing a ball on its snout: a tribute to both the charm of nature and artistic mastery. Sculpted from the luminous crystal of Colle Val d'Elsa, the historic birthplace of fine glassmaking in Italy, the figure radiates clarity, precision and whimsical refinement.

The seal's soft, fluid contours evoke the elegance of its marine form, while the perfectly spherical ball appears to float in natural balance. Ideal as a sophisticated accent, it invites admiration and a smile, offering a timeless reminder of the beauty of nature interpreted through the language of crystal. Made in Italy.
