Description

Graceful and imposing, this elegant Plumed Royal Swans are sculpted from the luminous crystal of Colle Val d'Elsa, the historic birthplace of fine glassmaking in Italy. One swan stands with its wings gently raised in a moment of serene movement, while the other rests with its wings lowered in serene repose. Together, they evoke a harmonious balance of elegance and strength.

Each swan is meticulously detailed, with delicate feathered textures that catch and refract the light, revealing the purity and brilliance of the crystal. The contrasting wing positions create a lyrical composition, an interplay of movement and stillness that captures the timeless grace of these majestic creatures. Made in Italy.
