

Daruma

Design: Sergio Asti

Description

Daruma was born like this. Two glossy white blown glass caps overlapping each other, where the rigor of the white volumes gives it, when switched off, the elegant beauty of a vase, but once switched on, animates it with different luminosity and colors, more intense in the upper part and softer in the lower part; an effect due to the choice of placing the light source in the lamp cap. In this way, the double thickness of the glass refracts different intensities, creating soft and welcoming lighting effects. Made in Italy.
