

Fontana 1853

Design: Max Ingrand

Description

The first timeless design object symbol, still a best seller and timeless icon, Fontana represents the abat-jour par excellence. The peculiarity of this elegant table lamp is its multiple lighting: both the base and the shade contain one or more light sources. The differentiated switching enables several lighting needs to be met: from the soft glow of the resting light, to the intense reading light up to an emotional and ambient light, obtained by indirect emission.

Designed in 1954 by the famous French Master glassmaker and decorator Max Ingrand, this table lamp was originally named 1853 and, at a later time, Fontana, in homage to the company of which the Master was Artistic Director for a decade. For design enthusiasts and connoisseurs of the brand's history, 1853 still remains as a sort of nickname. Made in Italy.
