

Kipu Club

Design: Anderssen & Voll

Description

The KIPU Club Armchair evolves from the iconic pebble-shaped pouf into a nest-like seat with ergonomic backrest. Upholstered in removable fabric, leather, or coated fabric, with double-density foam for comfort, it comes with or without a swiveling base.

Growing means exactly this, reinventing a shape that already seemed perfect. Ten years after its creation, the KIPU pouf becomes an armchair, KIPU Club. In 2014, for Lapalma, the duo Anderssen&Voll created a pouf that is both sculptural and informal, and also ideal as a side table. Its shape was inspired by a smooth river pebble. Throughout a decade, this highly elegant and versatile pouf, created to be freely placed in lounge areas, on its own or grouped, has occupied other spaces, from offices to libraries, hotels and homes, conveying its personality and comfort in a variety of shapes and upholstery wherever placed. In 2024, the Norwegian design studio added an ergonomic backrest to the KIPU seat, which supports, protects and gently embraces the body. The pebble has become a nest. And the many admirers of this furnishing item, perfect on its own and generous in pairs or groups, have formed a club. You can now enrol. Dress code? Elegance, pleasure and relaxation. Made in Italy.
