

Amanita

Design: Mariana Pellegrino Soto

Description

The Amanita lamp consists of two discs: the first, slimmer, functions as the base, while the second, thicker disc houses the LED light source and is adjustable, allowing the beam of light to be directed with precision. These two metal elements are connected and spaced by a slender, oblique stem in the shape of a 'Z', creating a silhouette that is both architectural and poetic.

The same design, with revised proportions and refined materials and finishes, is also offered in its outdoor version. Amanita effortlessly transforms from an elegant designer reading lamp to a sophisticated outdoor path-light. Its stylish, sculptural form enhances both private interiors and the most refined gardens or public spaces, reaffirming its role as a piece of luxury lighting design that merges functionality with timeless elegance. Made in Italy.
