

G.O.

Design: Giuseppe Ostuni

Description

The G.O. lamp is the revival edition of a timeless model designed by Giuseppe Ostuni for Oluce in the 1960s. With its essential yet sophisticated design, the lamp remains strikingly contemporary, defined by a vertical shaft from which a horizontal arm branches out to support the lampshade. Thanks to an ingenious system of joints, the arm is a sliding element that can be easily repositioned and oriented, offering both flexibility and refined functionality. This exclusive collection preserves the spirit of the original design, enhanced by the iconic cylindrical lampshade and the refined contrast of materials. The elegant use of color injects both energy and modernity into the historical design, maintaining its timeless appeal.

Originally conceived as a designer lamp for both domestic interiors and high-end contract spaces, the collection now expands with a sophisticated table lamp, also distinguished by its adjustable stem and reflector. The result is a modern, exclusive icon that embodies the perfect balance of Italian craftsmanship, elegant proportions, and luxury design heritage. Made in Italy.
