

Zanuso

Design: Marco Zanuso

Description

Designed in 1963 by Marco Zanuso for Oluce, the 275 table lamp—later renamed Zanuso—is a timeless piece of luxury designer lighting. Defined by its large adjustable rotary Perspex diffuser, anchored to a lacquered metal base, the lamp reflects Zanuso's talent for combining functionality with sculptural elegance.

Originally conceived as a desk lamp, its purpose was never purely operational. Instead, Zanuso envisioned a designer light fixture capable of illuminating a surface or enhancing a room with soft, atmospheric light. Its iconic form transcends its initial function, making it equally at home on desks, side tables, or any architectural plane. Today, the Zanuso 275 remains an emblem of high-end Italian design, blending refined minimalism with a strong visual presence, and standing as a testament to Oluce's legacy of creating luxury lighting fixtures that are both decorative and functional. Made in Italy.
