

Ciclopi-Atollo

Design: Elisa Ossino

Description

Born from refined and meticulous research on raw materials and the world of color, comes a new collection of rugs in organic wool that pays particular attention to the theme of the environmental impact. The Ciclopi collection consists of a series of larger rugs, with rounded and soft forms, and a line of smaller rugs to be overlaid to create extemporaneous solutions that redesign the way space is experienced, giving life to many uses: from seating to headrest or support. The color palette is conceived in natural tones. The design of a circle inscribed within the irregular figure of the rug has suggested the formal recollection of the eye of the cyclops, inspiring the name of the collection. Made in Italy.
