

Ritagli

Design: Elisa Ossino

Description

Taste for shapes essentiality and chromatic refinement; these are characterising elements of Ritagli, the new collection designed by Elisa Ossino. Rugs that arise from the combination of hand-drawn shapes, cut out and subtracted from the rug's material, in which the contours outline has been marked with black color to replicate the pencil's stroke, on a chromatically uniform or multicolored fleece. Bamboo silk has been chosen for this collection which, in a completely natural way, blends playful features and extraordinary refinement. Made in Italy.
