

Amphora

Design: Emmanuel Gallina

Description

The Amphora dining table enriches the Porada luxury furniture collection with a new expression of timeless Italian craftsmanship and refined versatility. Its sculptural base, crafted from solid Canaletta walnut, embodies the brand's dedication to detail and material excellence. Amphora adapts seamlessly to different modern and contemporary interiors.

The wooden top is able to expand effortlessly in just a few simple gestures. The end leaf extension, discreetly stored beneath the tabletop, can be easily pulled out when needed—combining functionality and elegance in perfect harmony.

Balancing aesthetic sophistication with everyday practicality, Amphora represents a statement piece of luxury Italian furniture design, ideal for refined dining spaces that celebrate both form and function.

Made in Italy.
