Design: S. Tollgard & F. Castellani

Description

The Ekerö side tables take inspiration from Oak Island near Stockholm, where creative director Tollgard grew up. In this collection, marble frames the wood much like the sea surrounds land, giving the series a unified aesthetic. Part of the Archipelago line by the design duo Tollgard-Castellani, these modern tables combine sculptural form with functional elegance ideal for contemporary living rooms. Each table features a solid base in white Carrara marble or grey Carrara marble, materials chosen for their durability and natural beauty. These bases anchor a central metal stem that supports tops crafted from solid Canaletto walnut, adding warmth and a refined, natural finish that enhances interior spaces. The tabletop shapes are influenced by stones smoothed by waves, giving each piece a soft, expressive silhouette. Available in round, square, and oval designs with three height options, the collection offers versatility for styling modern living rooms. With its blend of premium materials, Scandinavian inspiration, and Italian craftsmanship, the Ekerö collection is designed for homeowners searching for high-quality marble and walnut furniture with a contemporary aesthetic. Made in Italy.
