Description

Klem is a modular sofa created to deliver exceptional flexibility in contemporary living spaces. Each element can be combined to form a wide range of configurations, from a compact two-seater layout to an expansive corner solution. The structure is crafted from solid canaletto walnut, giving the sofa a distinctive visual identity, especially in the corner modules where the wood wraps around and frames the upholstered body in either leather or fabric. Soft yet disciplined in its design language, Klem features an internal frame made of multilayer wood, solid fir, poplar, and elastic straps that ensure balanced support and everyday comfort. The padding uses polyurethane foam with differentiated densities, while the cushions and backrest are filled with microflock wadding made from 100 percent recycled polyester, reflecting a thoughtful approach to material innovation. Foam inserts enhance softness and overall feel. In the fabric version, all upholstery is fully removable, making it easy to care for and simple to clean. Made in Italy.
