

Atollo

Design: Matteo Zorzenoni

Description

The Atollo collection is a sculptural and versatile family of coffee tables conceived for elegant, contemporary living spaces. Each piece features an organic, irregularly shaped top, inspired by natural atolls, giving the tables a fluid and artistic presence.

Their softly contoured silhouettes bring a sense of balance and movement, making them ideal as statement pieces in modern interiors, whether used individually or combined to create dynamic compositions.

Atollo tables are available in a refined palette of stoneware, matte or glossy lacquer, metallic lacquer, and concrete-effect finishes, including special micalized options enriched with delicate shimmering particles for an elevated, luminous touch. This extensive color chart ensures easy coordination with a wide range of luxury furniture and interior design styles, from minimalist environments to more expressive, design-driven spaces.

Each tabletop rests on a cylindrical metal base—or on a double-base structure for larger versions—offering stability, architectural character, and a visually striking contrast with the soft geometry of the top.

The result is a collection that enhances living rooms, lounges, and hospitality spaces, providing both functional support and distinctive decorative value.

The Atollo coffee tables embody a perfect fusion of craftsmanship, material variety, and contemporary design, elevating any environment with their refined aesthetics and sculptural presence. Made in Italy.
