

Beam

Design: Matteo Zorzenoni

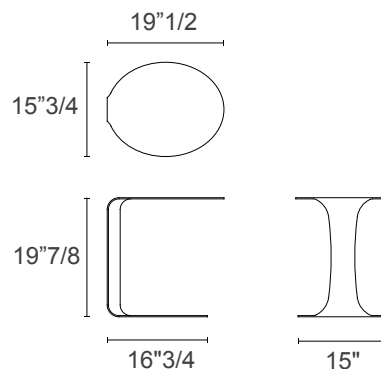

Description

The Beam side table is a discreet yet sophisticated companion for modern living spaces, designed to slide effortlessly between the sofa seat and the floor to provide convenient surface space exactly where you need it. Its slim, architectural profile makes it ideal for holding drinks, books, remote controls, and everyday accessories, bringing both practicality and elegance to your living room or lounge area. Compact and functional, it enriches any seating arrangement without overwhelming the environment. Crafted from curved metal available in a selection of refined finishes, Beam offers a clean, contemporary aesthetic that harmonizes beautifully with a broad range of modern furniture styles. For a more luxurious and tactile option, the table can be upholstered in regenerated hard leather, enhanced with visible, tailored stitching that highlights its craftsmanship and gives the piece a bespoke, design-driven character. Perfect as a sofa-side companion, an accent table, or a functional décor element, Beam blends minimalist design with premium materials, delivering a versatile solution that elevates both comfort and the visual appeal of contemporary interiors. Made in Italy.
