Description

The shaped version of the Kiri table offers a more fluid, organic interpretation of the design, ideal for interiors seeking softness, movement, and contemporary sophistication.

Beneath the elegant top, two central legs made of meticulously arranged metal rods form an irregular, cross-pattern structure that is visually airy yet structurally strong. This artistic base enhances the shaped silhouette, creating a graceful interplay between form, volume, and open space.

The result is a table with a captivating character—refined, expressive, and undeniably modern—perfect for luxurious dining areas, design-led living spaces, or sophisticated hospitality environments. Kiri's shaped version stands out as an interior focal point while maintaining effortless harmony with a wide range of decor styles. Ideal for lovers of luxury furniture, contemporary furniture, designer furniture, modern dining tables, high-end furniture, luxury interior design, and finely crafted Italian pieces, this version of Kiri transforms everyday living into a design experience. Made in Italy.
