Description

Kyoto is a low and generously proportioned square coffee table designed for the living room, conceived to pair seamlessly with the Kyoto bookcase. Both pieces share the same coherent design language, defined by a refined metal frame and wooden surfaces that express a balanced dialogue between structure and material warmth.

This low coffee table features two wide shelves, where the lower level becomes a practical and capacious storage solution for everyday living room needs. The upper and lower tops are crafted in wood and available in an extensive range of finishes, including natural textures, refined essences, matt or glossy lacquers, and special finishes such as metal or cement effects. This versatility allows Kyoto to adapt effortlessly to different interior styles and aesthetic preferences.

The metal frame, available in multiple finishes, plays a dual role that is both aesthetic and functional. Its clean, architectural lines support the two shelves with stability and visual lightness, while the metal element overlapping the top surface adds a practical detail, making it ideal for safely resting hot drinks. With its solid construction, elegant proportions, and functional intelligence, the Kyoto coffee table is a refined addition to contemporary living spaces that value design consistency and everyday usability.
