Description

The Slash mirror stands out for its essential square or rectangular design, elevated by refined construction details that express precision and craftsmanship. The wooden frame is distinguished by a sophisticated 45° cut, where each element is carefully joined to create clean lines and a subtle sense of depth. This angled junction transforms simplicity into a refined decorative feature, giving the mirror a discreet yet distinctive character.

Designed to offer maximum flexibility, the Slash mirror adapts effortlessly to different interior needs and personal styles. It can be hung horizontally or vertically, depending on the proportions of the space, or casually placed leaning against the wall for a more relaxed and contemporary look. This versatility makes Slash a natural addition to refined interiors, where functionality and Italian design sensibility coexist. Elegant and understated, it is a mirror conceived to complement a wide range of luxury home decor settings with balance and timeless appeal.
