

Canna Nuda Metallo Suspension Lamp

Design: Piero Castiglioni & Roberto Menghi

Description

The modern Canna Nuda Metallo Suspension is the metal interpretation of the Canna Nuda project, developed to explore light through spot lighting. Its design focuses on precision and control, using the metal structure to direct light in a clear and intentional way. This approach distinguishes it from the other versions of the collection, while remaining consistent with the project's overall aesthetic.

As an integral part of the Canna Nuda collection, the Metallo version represents a balance between harmonious forms and versatility. Its clean, focused lighting solution reinforces the collection's ability to adapt to different uses, while maintaining a cohesive and recognizable design identity. Made in Italy.
