

Supernova

Design: Signorotto + Partners

Description

Supernova is a bookcase with three or four shelves, defined by a soft, contemporary character and an immediately recognizable metal rod structure. Its design stands out for the balance between visual lightness and structural presence, where the slender metal rods become true protagonists, shaping the silhouette with gentle curves and refined proportions.

Conceived to be placed at the center of the room, Supernova is a freestanding, double-sided bookcase designed to be admired from every perspective. The careful finishing on all sides allows it to function not only as a storage element, but also as an architectural feature capable of organizing and defining space without closing it off. Its fluid lines and open structure make it easy to integrate into a variety of interiors, from intimate residential settings to more expansive living areas.

The Supernova bookcase is part of a broad and coherent family of furnishings that share the same formal language of soft shapes and metal rod construction. This continuity reinforces its identity within modern living room furniture collections, making it a natural choice for those seeking high end living room furniture with an elegant, contemporary Italian sensibility. Made in Italy.
