

Caribe Lounger

Design: Studio Balutto Associati

Description

The elegant and modern Caribe Lounger features an essential woven design that follows the ergonomic line of the back, providing a complete sense of relaxation. The frame is made of aluminum with a polyester powder-coated finish, while the metal base is treated with cataphoresis and polyester powder coating. The seating structure is fully covered with Sunloom Chocolate weaving (polyester-PVC). The mattress, available with or without a headrest pad, is made of open-cell, draining polyurethane, fully removable, and equipped with a nonslip net on the back side that rests against the woven surface.
