

Kumiko

Design: Lato X Lato

Description

Kumiko is the result of a thoughtful exploration of solid wood and its remarkable versatility, giving life to a stool with a strong, linear presence and refined character. Its balanced proportions and architectural silhouette reflect the essence of contemporary designer furniture, where material integrity and design precision come together in a visually striking piece.

Crafted from solid wood and enhanced with high-quality upholstery, Kumiko combines durability with comfort. Subtle metal accents add a touch of sophistication, elevating the design and highlighting the attention to detail typical of luxury Italian furniture. The upholstered seat and backrest are carefully designed to provide a comfortable and supportive seating experience, making it ideal for extended use.

Perfect for hospitality environments or elegant residential settings, Kumiko integrates seamlessly into refined bar areas, high tables, or reception spaces. As part of curated luxury home furniture solutions, it offers a harmonious blend of functionality, comfort, and contemporary elegance, bringing character and sophistication to any space.
