

Sirio

Design: Giuseppe Carpanelli

Description

This sofa embodies the refined elegance and comfort expected from a true luxury brand furniture piece. Its clean, contemporary silhouette is designed to create a sophisticated focal point within modern interiors, combining architectural structure with soft, inviting volumes that enhance both aesthetics and relaxation.

Built with a solid wooden frame and multi-density polyurethane padding, the sofa offers exceptional comfort and long-lasting support. The base, fully upholstered in leather and finished with refined stitching details, highlights the meticulous craftsmanship and premium materials associated with luxury Italian furniture. Elegant metal feet with a refined metallic finish add a subtle touch of brilliance, enhancing the design with a modern yet timeless character.

Versatile and sophisticated, this sofa adapts beautifully to a variety of interior styles, making it a perfect element within elegant living room furniture sets. Its balanced proportions, luxurious materials, and attention to detail reflect the harmony between design innovation and artisanal tradition that defines high-end Italian furniture.
