

Bubble

Design: Matteo Zorzenoni

Description

Inspired by the comfortable aesthetics of the Seventies, Bubble is a modular sectional sofa defined by soft, rounded lines and generous padded volumes. Designed around a single modular element, it offers multiple configurations that adapt easily to the needs of contemporary interiors, allowing flexible compositions that can evolve over time and space.

Available with a structural curved wood base that highlights the upholstery in refined fabrics or leathers, or without the base for a lighter, more minimal look, Bubble balances sculptural design with everyday comfort. Its structure in EPA-certified plywood, fir, and hardboard is padded with open-cell polyurethane and Dacron layers and supported by elastic straps, ensuring durability and long-lasting comfort while creating a welcoming focal point in any living space. Made in Italy.
