Design: Pier Luigi Frighetto

Description

Sebastian is a sofa with a romantic soul, where soft, enveloping shapes meet a refined interpretation of classicism. Its balanced geometry creates a sense of harmony and composure, while the overall design invites comfort and intimacy, making it a standout piece within luxury home furniture collections.

The structure is crafted from poplar wood and supported by a durable elastic belt suspension system, ensuring both stability and long-lasting performance. Generous padding in high-resilience polyurethane foam is complemented by an upholstery layer in thermo-bonded fiber, while the seat and back cushions—filled with premium European goose down and enhanced with supportive foam inserts—offer an exceptional level of softness and comfort typical of high-end designer furniture.

Distinctive armrests, delicately supported and inspired by Hellenic forms, lend the piece a subtle architectural elegance. Designed for sophisticated interiors with a timeless sensibility, Sebastian brings warmth and refinement to curated family room furniture, creating a welcoming setting for relaxed yet elevated living. Made in Italy.
