

Athena

Design: Massimiliano Raggi

Description

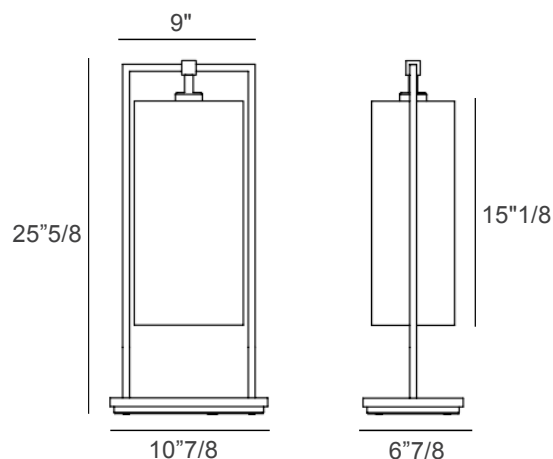

Athena is a table lamp defined by the harmonious interplay of geometric forms, where rectangles in the base and ovals in the shade complement each other with refined balance. The shade is crafted in linen, adding a soft couture touch that enhances the lamp's refined character and diffuses light with warmth and elegance. The base combines strong architectural lines with carefully balanced proportions, creating a sense of stability and visual harmony. Versatile and elegant, Athena adapts effortlessly to a variety of residential, hospitality, and contract settings. Sold as a set of two, it is ideal for creating symmetrical compositions on bedside tables, consoles, or side tables, enhancing curated living room furniture sets with soft illumination and timeless decorative appeal. Made in Italy.
