

Rhode Sectional

Design: Giuseppe Viganò

Description

Rhode combines everyday practicality with a sophisticated aesthetic, creating a versatile and sophisticated seating system characterized by soft, enveloping forms. Its design is defined by a fluid profile with continuous, clean lines that shape both the cushions and the wide, rounded armrests.

Conceived for ultimate compositional freedom, the system adapts to diverse spatial and project requirements through three curated configurations. The Grand Corner layout incorporates a fluid curved corner and an integrated solid wood side table between the seating modules. The Chaise Lounge configuration features a generous lounge element balanced by an intermediate solid wood service table, highlighting the contrast between the wood and the soft upholstery. The Linear Classic offers a symmetrical double-seat configuration framed by integrated wooden tables at both ends of the armrests.

A defining feature of the design is the solid wood inserts integrated into the armrests and seating sections. These wood elements blend seamlessly with the sofa's silhouette, balancing the rich materiality of natural wood with the softness of the upholstery. Crafted by hand in Italy with meticulous attention to detail, Rhode features premium upholstery and high-density comfort padding, making it a distinctive focal point for prestigious residential lounges, luxury apartments, and high-end architectural projects.
