

Petalus

Description

The Petalus Sectional by Potocco is a high-end Italian modular seating system defined by generous, sculptural volumes and distinctive petal-shaped armrests that bring an organic, refined architectural presence to contemporary interiors. Engineered for expansive residential living spaces, executive lounges, and luxury hospitality environments, this seating system combines relaxed comfort with precise modular versatility. Available in two distinct pre-configured compositions (Composition A and Composition B), the Petalus Sectional allows for tailored spatial planning across large floor layouts. Both configurations combine linear and angular elements to form an inviting, continuous aesthetic. To maximize both utility and relaxation, each composition includes an integrated side table module providing a seamless functional surface without disrupting the silhouette as well as two coordinating ottomans that can be docked into the configuration or arranged freely as versatile auxiliary seating. The sectional is fully upholstered across a wide selection of premium Italian fabrics, eco-leathers, and fine leathers. For ease of maintenance and longevity in high-profile settings, the covers are completely removable on all fabric versions. A dedicated concealed interlocking hardware system ensures seamless, rigid alignment between all seating modules, side tables, and companion components. Made in Italy.
