

Alice Vanity Desk

Description

The Alice Vanity Desk is a dual-function writing desk and vanity table designed by architect Celeste Dell'Anna. The structure is built on a plywood frame, with curved legs wrapped in leather and finished with continuous hand-stitching along their profile. The writing surface is fitted with a hinged flap mechanism that lifts to reveal an integrated backlit LED mirror, wired for the US market, converting the work surface into a vanity station. All exterior and interior surfaces are leather-upholstered. The piece includes two side drawers, each fitted with a leather pull handle finished with a metal handle stopper in silvered brass. Available finishes and leather colorways vary by configuration. Handmade in Italy.
