

AIR-FUS0199 Bar Shelving

By Arteinmotion - Aeronautical Collection

Description

The Transitional AIR-FUS0199 Bar Shelving transforms an original ATR aircraft fuselage section into a functional bar display unit. The design incorporates the emergency exit door opening along with one or two aircraft windows, preserving the recognizable structure and character of the original fuselage. The window openings are converted into leather-covered bottle display niches, while RGB spotlights provide integrated illumination. A mirror-polished finish enhances the curved metal surface and gives the piece a highly reflective presence. The unit can operate on battery power or 220V, combining authentic aircraft construction with a contemporary display function. Made in Italy.
