

Philippe Leather

Description

Philippe Leather Sideboard is a storage unit with a structured design and leather-covered exterior surfaces. The top frame is integrated with the main cabinet structure, while the doors, drawer fronts, and side panels are upholstered in leather.

The unit features hinged doors and drawers with a soft-close mechanism. The drawers have finished interiors, while internal storage is organized through shelves according to the selected configuration.

The design combines functional storage with carefully detailed construction, including integrated handles and a structured base. Philippe Leather Sideboard is available with different leather covering options, allowing the exterior finish to be customized while maintaining the characteristic design of the collection.

Made in Italy.
