Camp Modular Sofa

Design: D+A & N'lab

Description

Modular sofa designed by d+a and NLab, part of the Camp modular system. The sofa is composed of independent seat components with softly rounded edges, combined with an enveloping backrest that wraps around the sides of the composition. Composition A includes three seats; Composition B includes two seats with a table positioned between them. The components can be freely arranged to create different seating configurations, and the system includes integrable accessories for tailored solutions. The sofa connects with the Camp functional panels, which can be installed as freestanding elements and serve as attachment points for accessories. The upholstery can be personalized to suit different spaces and lifestyles. Made in Italy
